ABSTRACT

The Zelotes Coombs Papers (1915-1928) contain drafts and finished writing for his unpublished book "The History of Worcester Polytechnic Institute." The history he describes ends by the late 1920s.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Note: Most of this information is taken from WPI Journals.

Zelotes Wood Coombs was born in 1865 in Worcester. He graduated from Amherst College in 1888, and studied law and taught Physical Education at the University of Virginia. In 1890, he became assistant in languages and clerk to President Homer T. Fuller at WPI. In 1892 he became instructor and in 1895 Assistant Professor of Modern Languages. From 1903 to 1913 he served as head of the Department of English and Modern Languages. When the department was divided in 1913, he became head of the Department of English, and served in this capacity for twenty-four years. Beginning in 1910 and until his retirement in 1937, he was secretary of the faculty. He was chairman of the admissions committee from 1916 until his appointment as Dean in 1935. He was interested in WPI's athletics programs, and served for several years as treasurer of the Athletic Association.

Professor Coombs wrote several small published books, including a biography of Homer Taylor Fuller. Most of these books are on specific topics, including the Worcester Art Society, Worcester and Worcester Common, and the Blackstone Canal.

Professor Coombs retired from WPI in 1937. He died in 1946.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

All of the materials in this collection appear to be drafts and finished writing for his unpublished book The History of Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Materials are not dated, but the history he describes generally ends by the late 1920s.

Most of Box 1 contains the typewritten manuscript. There are two copies, and the first has been divided into several folders containing sections of the manuscript. A large part of the manuscript is the section titled "History of Worcester Polytechnic Institute," which includes history of the founding of the school, its land and buildings, and other information about its early history until about 1927.

Beginning at the end of Box 1, with Folder 16, are handwritten drafts of the many sections of the manuscript. Some handwritten sections do not appear to have been included in the typed manuscript, and these are at the end of the collection.

Before the collection was processed, all the handwritten sections were together in a box. Because there seemed to be some order, folders were numbered in the order they were found. These numbers, which do not correspond to the final arrangement, are on the right side of the folders. The final arrangement of the handwritten materials corresponds to the typewritten draft.

Folder 1 in Box 1 contains an index of the sections of the manuscript.
