Who’s Hungry?
Creating the Optimal Survey For Analyzing WPI Student Food Needs
Carlee Irish (AE), Colleen Mullins (ME), Jordan Myers (CHE), Olivia Ridley (CHE)
Advisors: Professor Elisabeth Stoddard and Professor Kristen Wobbe

Food Insecurity on U.S. College Campuses

- 42% of all college students have experienced some form of food insecurity
- 398 U.S. colleges have food pantries due to student food insecurity

Is Food Insecurity a Problem at WPI?

- Increase in college tuition 12 fold over 30 years → increased food insecurity
- Food insecure students score lower on math, reading, and social skills tests

What Do We Propose?

Survey
- 7 questions
- Administered by Residential Services

Focus Groups
- International Students
- Upperclassmen
- Students on Financial Aid

Potential Support Groups
- Multicultural Affairs
- International House
- Student Development Center
- Financial Aid Office

Potential Solutions
- Educational Movement
- Food Bank/ Pantry
- Meal Swipe Application

Resources:

Acknowledgments:
We would like to thank both Professor Stoddard and Professor Wobbe for helping guide us through this entire project. We would also like to credit Rebecca Guimond and James Dubick for taking the time to interview with us and various offices around WPI for answering our questions and keeping in contact with our group.